

End User Licence Agreement

Test Licence

Introduction

- The following is an agreement between the user (licensee) and us, the TypeMates (licencer / TypeMates, J.Runge, N.Thomsen-Habermann, L.Fischbach GbR).
- To be allowed to download and use the fonts, you need to accept this font software licence.
- With your purchase you own a licence to use our fonts (font software) with respect to the following terms and conditions. You are not purchasing the ownership of the typeface itself.
- We ensure that TypeMates is the sole owner of the distribution rights of the fonts and their intellectual property. We do not breach copyrights with other third parties.
- Depending on the licencing, our static and variable fonts are delivered in the following formats: OpenType (OTF), TrueType (TTF), as well as web font formats (WOFF, and WOFF2). Additional formats are available on request, but may require an additional licencing.

Test Licencing

- ✓ You may install the fonts on your computer to generate graphics, or PDFs, to convince yourself and your client. You should licence the original font—without "DEMO", or "TRY" in its name—for the final and commercial artwork.
- ✓ You can embed the fonts in static documents (e.g. PDF, JPG), to present them to your client. And you can layout website dummies for pitch purposes.
- ✗ Graphics created with the fonts may not be used outside of prototypes and in published designs. "DEMO" and "TRY" fonts are no legit font products, only a free trial version.
- ✗ You may not embed the fonts, in a way that third parties can access them. With any font usage you must embed the fonts securely, so that no one without a licence may export, extract or use the fonts.
- ✗ You may not resell the fonts, or provide them to third parties.

- ✗ You are not allowed to use the fonts in any other medium than your desktop or to preview a potential web usage.
So no apps, servers, eBooks, digital ads e.g.

The fonts may be given to a printer, as long as it is only used for production purposes and no new layouts are created. They have to accept the licence and delete/uninstall the fonts after finishing the job.
